

Tebogo Magetse is an international education professional with over 16 years of experience in higher education partnerships and global engagement. As Manager of International Partnerships, Tebogo provides strategic leadership in developing and managing international collaborations that support the University of Botswana's academic and internationalization priorities.

Previously serving as Assistant Manager in the Office of International Education and Partnerships, Tebogo has led initiatives in partnership development, student and staff mobility, and the management of international agreements. Tebogo has coordinated major scholarship and exchange programmes, supported international students and visiting scholars, and represented the University on global platforms.

On RECLAIM, Tebogo will oversee international mobility processes, including student travel compliance, registration, orientation, and welfare, while facilitating effective socio-cultural integration within the University and national context. With expertise in international programmes, policy frameworks, and cross-border collaboration, Tebogo is committed to advancing sustainable, inclusive, and high-impact international partnerships.
